

OPPORTUNITIES FOR GIVING

Educational Resources

AED is developing a series of pamphlets geared towards helping equip congregations with tools to engage and minister to the unchurched in their communities and to disciple their members in the church.

- “Preparing to Share Your Faith” offers practical guidance for developing a heart for evangelism and sharing the gospel. Future pamphlets in this series will include guidance on “How to Have Spiritual Conversations,” “Developing Active Listening Skills,” and “Biblical Steps that Lead to Salvation.”
- “Baptism Is Not Magic” explains the sacramental gift of baptism and all that God bestows through it, even to infants, while affirming the responsibility of parents, sponsors, and those who receive it to recognize it as the beginning of a relationship with God. This relationship matures through training in God’s Word, receiving the sacrament of the Lord’s Supper, church attendance and participation, and is confirmed through the life of the one receiving this precious gift. Originally published by Concordia Tract Mission, this tract is now out of print. We purchased the rights to the original text and have updated it into a beautiful pamphlet that congregations can share with parents of children wanting to bring their children to God through baptism, as well as anyone seeking baptism.

To make these types of resources widely accessible to our congregations, we offer them for free on our website, and suggest a $0.50 donation for each printed pamphlet plus shipping. You can join us by helping to cover the roughly $500 cost of producing each of these and future projects.
