

Programming for Youth Workers' Weekend (YWW)

Youth Workers' Weekend (YWW) strives to be an affordable retreat and conference in one, that can be part of a congregation's strategy to provide the rest and training their youth worker needs—without breaking the bank. To accomplish this, we are inviting individuals from around the AFLC to donate toward program costs, like speakers, staff, and supplies, for this event. With only the costs for housing, food, and meeting space remaining, we would be able to lower the event's registration rate. This ensures the price-tag of the event isn't a hindrance for congregations to send their youth workers to get the training and renewal they need.

“ We brought a carload of caring adults to YWW. It was a great opportunity to grow together in our understanding and philosophy of youth ministry while also being poured into ourselves. From a relationship standpoint, it was a blessing to reconnect with other like-minded youth leaders and to connect with new ones.
